THE WEAPONS OF WAR.

THE NEEDLE GUN, THE CHASSEPOT AND OTHER BREECH-LOADING WEAPONS COMPARED WITH OUR REMINGTON AND OTHER RIFLES—FRENCH AND AMERICAN DEFICIENCY IN CANNON—GERMAN SUPERIORITY IN BREECH-LOADING ARTILLERY.

The New York Herald of the 23d February has an interesting article on the above general subject, to the principal portions of which we give place. At the beginning of the article French and German small arms are thus compared:

One fact developed by the European contest is the defectiveness of the French and German systems of small arms. Although proven at Sadowa superior to the old muzzle-loader, the needle-gun has been an ordinary weapon when opposed to the chassepot. At Marsle Tour and Gravelotte the superior range and initial velocity of the French weapon almost neutralized the advantage possessed by the Germans in artillery, numbers and generalship. Never at any time during these battles did the Germans succeed in breaking the French line. At Gravelotte, especially, it was not until the right wing of Bazaine's army had been turned and its rear threatened that the French retired, in perfect order, upon the fortress of Metz

Nevertheless the chassepot, which is only an improvement on the needle-gun, is also a defective weapon. Both guns are, in fact, constructed on a false principle. The breech mechanism works by means of a bolt, which moves backward and forward in a channel in order to open and close the breech. This occasions great friction, and as both guns use paper cartridges there is a general tendency for the gas to escape, thereby fouling the piece and obstructing the operation of the bolt. In addition, the channel in which the bolt acts frequently conducts the gas back to the face of the soldier firing the gun, rendering it dangerous to handle. But, as we have said before, the superior range of the chassepot has been a decided benefit to the French, and accounts in a measure for the desperate resistance Douay's brigade at Wissenburg and McMahon's corps at Woerth were able to offer to the immensely superior forces which attacked them.

It must be borne in mind, however, that the chassepot, though superior to the needle-gun, has been proven inferior to many American and English breech-loading rifles. As we remarked before, the system on which both the French and German guns are made is bad. Experience has demonstrated the defectiveness of all breech-loading small arms in which paper cartridges are used, when opposed to similar arms charged with metallic cartridges, and simply because it is difficult to prevent the fouling of the breech apparatus with the first, and next to impossible for there to be any fouling with the second, if the breech piece be constructed on sound scientific principles.

The writer then passes to some remarks on American small arms, as compared with those of England and France. We quote.

In the matter of small arms our government has displayed much wisdom in selecting a weapon which is not only superior to the Chassepot and needle-gun, but also to the English Snider and any other breech-loader yet tested. One hundred thousand Americans armed with the Remington rifle, which has been adopted by the United States navy, and officially reported for adoption by the army, would be more than a match for a similar force of French, Germans or English, armed with their present weapons, if both armies were equal in artillery and generalship. The simplicity of its mechanism, its durability, its strength in resisting the coil of the charge, its facility of execution, rapidity of firing and accuracy of range, combine to make it probably the best military arm in the world. Such is the opinion of many of our army officers, including Generals Sherman, Sheridan and Schofield, and such also is the opinion of the Spanish, Swedish, Egyptian, Danish and, though too late, French governments, which have ordered large numbers, while rejecting native or European inventions. But even if we had no Remington we should still possess an advantage over the principal European nations in the matter of small arms. The converted Springfield, which is also used by our government, the Peabody, the Spencer and Winchester repeating rifles, and half a dozen others whose names we cannot recall to mind, are as much superior to the Chassepot, needle-gun and Snider as these latter are to the old muzzle-loader.

The artillery arm is also considered. After expressing a doubt whether the French would have gained any victories in the present war had they been as well drilled as the Germans and remained wanting in the terrible breech-loading field artillery used by their adversaries, and which has, on almost every battle field done more to defeat them than the strategy of Von Moltke and the imbecility of their own generals, this writer goes on to say that we are as deficient in artillery as the French. He remarks;

During the rebellion the favorite field pieces in our armies were the rifled Parrott and the Napoleon smooth bore. Both are undoubtedly good guns, but neither can compare with the breech-loading cannon used by the Germans! The correspondents, in their reports of battles fought between the French and Germans, have invariably stated that "before the French could even catch a glimpse of the enemy they were compelled to sustain a fearfully effective artillery fire," so great was the range of the German guns. In fact, the war in France has been decided by artillery. Formidable as is the French mitrailleuse, it cannot compete with the German rifled breech-loader. It certainly can fire a great many balls in an incredibly short space of time, but it is incapable of spreading the missiles which it discharges. These follow a single line and do not diverge; hence, unless the mitrailleuse be parked on the battlefield, its effect is scarcely greater than that of canister thrown from a twelve-pounder Napoleon field piece at easy range. At long distances it is powerless when opposed to the German gun.

We have in the Gatling gun adopted for the army a mitrailleuse superior to that used by the French, but we have no breech-loading cannon. Of what avail, then, would be our superiority in small arms if our army went into battle supported by rifled Parrotts and Napoleon smooth-bore guns, if, as has been the case in France, it was opposed by a force armed with the same artillery used by the Germans? Clearly none. At the Springfield Armory the Government is manufacturing Remington's and converting the old muzzle-loading rifle on the Allyn system, but it is doing nothing, so far as we are aware, to improve our artillery. It is true that there is no immediate prospect of our engaging in war with a foreign Power. The Alabama claims and fisheries question will doubtless be amicably settled. But we know not at what time questions may arise and involve us in war. It will not do to wait till the contest is upon us before preparing to meet it. Our Government should at once have our artillery recast and made equal to, if not better, than the German breech-loading cannon. In our artillery lies our military deficiency and our military weakness, which, if not remedied, may involve us in serious disaster.

The Petersburg Index reads a long lecture in a leading article on the subject of shoestrings, with the purpose of proving that ladies waste in the aggregate a few million hours every day in lacing their boots, time which might be saved by wearing gaiters with elastics.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 13.

A Hoax—Matters in Paris

LONDON, March 12.—A Vienna dispatch states that the report that a volcanic mountain on the Tyrol caved in, causing great loss of life, is totally false.

President Thiers and all members of the Government are expected in Paris to-morrow.

Threatening demonstrations in Montmartre have ceased, and the National Guard have removed all their cannon.

Lemaine, financier, says the total circulation of notes of the Bank of France last September was 1,774,000,000 francs, and is now 2,000,000,000. Notwithstanding loans to the Government the credit of the bank has not been affected. Its notes are everywhere accepted at par.

PARIS, March 12.—Gen. Vinoy has issued orders suspending publication of the Vengeur Pot Dordre, Cri Du Peuple, Caricature Pere, Ducresne and Bouche de Fer. The publication of new political or social economical journals is prohibited.

The German troops evacuate Versailles to-morrow, and the French troops will immediately occupy the town.

Marquis de Bonneville has been appointed French Ambassador at Vienna.

The health of the city is improving.

Syndics of Chamber of Commerce have decided that no Germans shall be employed in trades of Paris.

The official journal contains edicts dissolving certain headquarters staffs of the army, approving the formation of regiments of infantry and urging the establishment of camps of instruction.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Political Matters

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The committee appointed by the Republican Senatorial caucus, yesterday, consists of Morton, Poole, Scott, Edmunds and Frelinghuysen. The committee of the House Republican caucus consists of Butler, Moore, Shellabarger, Mercur of Pennsylvania, Thomas of North Carolina, and Coburn of Indiana. They will meet to-morrow morning and prepare a bill to protect loyal citizens of the United States in the full enjoyment of their rights and personal liberty and property against Ku-Klux outrages. Such offences are regarded as, and will be declared violations of the Constitution of the United States; therefore the President will be authorized to employ the land and naval forces in certain cases for the purposes indicated. And although no measures have yet been proposed, it is supposed he will be authorized to appoint Commissioners to take cognizance of offenses for the purpose of bringing them before Courts for trial. The caucus resolved to legislate on the Ku-Klux outrages, while the House resolved to give such legislation preference over all other subjects. There is a disposition on the part of some of the Republicans to adjourn without any legislation whatever. Democrats will oppose all measures in relation to the South.

There is authority for denying the truth of the alleged disclosures telegraphed from this city yesterday, purporting to represent the British Minister as having expressed to the Secretary of State, opinions adverse to the retention of Sumner on the Committee of Foreign Relations. No conversation on the subject has ever passed between Sir Edward Thornton or other members of the Commission (British) and Secretary Fish, neither was there ever intimated to the Secretary any desire for a change in any Committee.

More about San Domingo and the Commission

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 11.—The U. S. steamers Tennessee and Nantucket, with the members of the San Domingo Commission, arrived here to day via Port au Prince. All well on board. The Tennessee will refit in four days for New York via Key West. The performance of the Tennessee has delighted everybody. Fears of her condition are not shared by those on board, and her officers regard her as one of the strongest ships in the navy. Each Commissioner is preparing a draft of his report, and, as yet, the separate drafts have not been compared. Upon most of the points specified in the resolution of Congress, the reports of the Commissioners will show the condition of affairs favorable to annexation.

Before the Commissioners left Hayti, Luperon, who is one of Cabral's Generals, made a hostile demonstration against Monte Cristo, but the crew of the U. S. man-of-war Congress checked the demonstrations. President Baez accompanied the Commissioners on the Tennessee to Ozea, where he was to take personal command of a force operating in that quarter against Cabral. Cabral sent messengers to the Commissioners while they were in Hayti, but he did not visit them, nor was he seen by any one attached to the Commission. The last mails from the United States missed the Commission.

The steamship Hornet remains at Port au Prince closely watched by the Spanish war steamer Pizarro. Capt. Hudson has been relieved and left for home on the 9th inst. The Hornet is to be sold by order of Congress.

EASTERN STATES.

New York News.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Occupants of the house in which small pox patients are confined at Long Island City, attacked the carpenters who were building a frame about the house, but with the aid of the police the infested locality was shut in from the outside world. Guards at Hunter's Point have been obliged, in several instances, to use force to prevent the landing of persons at that place who died of small pox at Blackwell's Island.

SAN DOMINGO.

The American Commission.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A special dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, states that the United States steamers Tennessee and Nantucket arrived there yesterday from Port au Prince. The Commissioners are making their report, which is strong in favor of annexation. The Commissioners were badly received in Hayti, where Gen. Cabral informed them that he had no battle with Baez.

CUBA.

The Insurrection.

HAVANA, March 11.—Col Lapaya surprised a party of insurgents in the woods at San Vincent, on the 17th of February, and after a short engagement killed eight and took ten prisoners, among whom was the rebel commander Horatio Simone, a native of Puerto Principe, and married to an American lady, a daughter of Mr Fairchild, who was a very prominent man here at one time, but is now living in New York

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Horace Hawes died yesterday afternoon.

On the 19th of February the most severe earthquake felt for many years visited the Hawaiian Islands. Much damage was done to the sugar estates and other property on all the islands, but no lives were lost. Three shocks, commencing at seven minutes past ten in the evening and continuing one minute, were felt. On the island of Lanai huge rocks were dislodged from the mountains and hurled into the valleys, some of which were so filled with the debris as to be rendered unfit for cultivation.

The Irish Convention had a stormy meeting last evening on the subject of the St. Patrick's Day celebration. Father Foley, of Cloyne, Ireland, having been selected as orator of the day and having accepted the invitation, the convention was informed from the highest church authority that the proceeding was not satisfactory and that the clergy of this diocese would not be allowed to participate in the exercises. The convention thereupon rescinded the vote amid hisses from the audience, but adjourned without electing a new orator. As it does not meet again before the day, there is now no orator, and no one is authorized to select one. The feeling on the subject is exceedingly bitter, and many denounce Archbishop Alemany's course in unmeasured terms.

The Pioneer Oil Company of Salem are furnishing farmers flax seed for sowing.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Germans Leave Versailles

PARIS, March 13.—Versailles has been evacuated and the French garrison installed.

A convention for the return of French prisoners has been signed at Terriers. Some return via Erfurt and Hamburg and others overland.

Twenty prisoners were killed and sixty injured at Pulkaut.

Radicals have posted placards urging the army not to fight the people, but they had no effect. Six Radical papers are suppressed. There is no agitation.

Illness of Emperor William

AMIENS, March 12.—The Emperor is seriously indisposed and is unable to review the troops. The Crown Prince is reviewing them.

BERLIN, March 13.—The Emperor William is ill at Terriers, but will leave for this city Tuesday next. The journey will be direct. The condition of the Empress' health render it inexpedient for him to lengthen the trip by a visit to any of the Princes of the Empire.

It is announced that the 7th and 12th, Prussian corps and Wurtembergers will form an army of occupation in the portion of France to be held by the Germans until the conditions of the treaty of peace are fully carried out.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, March 13.—The Daily News says the Black Sea Conference meets to-day, but up to a late hour Sunday, the French Envoy was without instructions to attend.

It is reported from Paris that the Government intends to lay a tax on imported raw material, especially textile fabrics. The tax on [illegible] alone is expected to produce annually [illegible] 000,000 to 80,000,000 francs. [illegible] factured articles will be taxed [illegible]

The Daily News' dispatch [illegible] all the French prisoners in Belgium [illegible] home.

The French official journal publishes [illegible] approving the formation of regiments [illegible] ry at Bordeaux, and dissolving the [illegible] and staffs of armies lately operating in [illegible] and the camp of instruction of Havre, in Brittany and in Vosges.

A dispatch from Paris gives a positive contradiction to the telegram that Ponyer Quartier, French Minister of Finance, intends to make reforms in the management of the Ministry.

English News.

LONDON, March 13.—Right Hon. James Stansfield having accepted a Cabinet office, went to his constituency at the city of Halifax for re-election to Parliament and was returned without opposition.

Eight lives were lost by the wreck of a steam launch on the coast of the Island of Jersey.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, March 12.—Serious disturbances have taken place in the provinces. At Alicante an armed mob fired upon the Mayor and other civil officers. Some lives were lost. In elections the opposition is triumphing. In consequence of the disturbed state of the country, the King's trip to meet the Queen has been deferred.

The Black Sea Conference.

LONDON, March 13, 4 P. M.—The Black Sea Conference met all present, including Brunnow. It is probably the last session.

The Emperor William's Return.

WETZLER, March 13.—Preparations are made to receive William, Fritz and Moltke, who pass here Thursday.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Political Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The [illegible] of Mr Sumner from the Committee on Foreign Relations continues to be the exciting topic of conversation in all political circles, and its probable effect on the future of the Republican party and the nomination of Gen. Grant is freely discussed. All Republicans, except a few of Sumner's personal enemies in the Senate, agree that the occurrence is very damaging to the party and may prove disastrous; in short that it was a great political blunder. Democrats are highly elated at the affair. They say the renomination of Grant is inevitable, because there is no [illegible] strong to oppose him. [illegible] as necessary result [illegible] among Republicans. Many [illegible] on the other hand assert that [illegible] tion is now out of the question, and [illegible] sary to begin to look for a more [illegible] date if the party is to be saved from [illegible]. They argue that the entire body of New England Republicans will be hostile to him on account of Sumner's removal; that it has alienated also all the original anti slavery men throughout the country, who have always formed an active working element of the Republican party. There is already much canvassing relative to the merits and popularity of many prominent public men, with a view to their possible candidacy for the Republican nomination. Among other names, Colfax, Blaine, Sumner, Logan, Schenck and Cox are chiefly mentioned.

If Congress is not in session at the time the San Domingo Commissioners reach Washington a special executive session of the Senate will be called by the President to act on the treaty of annexation. From present prospects Congress will not adjourn before the Commissioners return, and if so, discussion of the annexation project will be an additional cause for a prolonged session.

Facts about Narrow Gauge Railroads.

The cost and working of narrow gauge railroads has of late enlisted special interest. In the opinion of the most competent engineers, who have had experience in operating such railroads, the best gauge is 3 feet 6 inches. This width admits a speed of twenty five miles an hour. It appears, however, that the cost per mile of narrow gauge roads exceeds the calculations of many railroad theorists. The following facts are collated from the Engineering and Mining Journal:

1st. The Queensland Railways, Australia. Length, 222 miles, gauge, 3 feet 6 inches. Wages, skilled laborer, $2 50 to $3 10; ordinary do, $1 50 to $1 75. Average cost per mile, $32,000.

2. The railway from Conveyeram to Arcoonar, Indian. Length, 19 miles; gauge 3 feet 6 inches. (Land and portion of road bed given by Government.) Materials chiefly sent out from England. Rails, 25½ pounds, iron. Average cost per mile, $19,000.

3d. The Toronto, Grey and Bruce, and the Toronto and Nipissing Railways, Canada. Length of first section, 193 miles; guage 3 feet 6 inches. Wages, ordinary laborer, $1 to $1 50. Average cost per mile, $24,150.

4th The Government railways, Norway, (constructed by Carl Pihl, C. E.) Length, 100 miles, guage, 3 feet 6 inches. (Rails and many other materials sent out from England.) First, through easy country, $15,900 per mile, second, through heavy country, $23,700 to $25,150 per mile.

It will be seen that the two first of these principles being conceded, it at once becomes possible to construct a thoroughly substantial track, with rails weighing not more than thirty or forty pounds per linear yard, provided that the ties are laid sufficiently close, the rails well fished at the joints, and an ample supply of ballast provided.

The speed of twenty-five miles an hour is found in practice to be more than sufficient for tributary roads. A load of four tons per wheel is sufficient to enable the passenger and freight cars to be of ample dimensions for convenience of traffic.

The passenger cars of latest design are of the usual American type, thirty-two feet long, exclusive of platforms, and eight feet six inches wide, carrying very comfortably thirty-two passengers. The boxes are fifteen feet long and eight feet six inches wide, and carry ten tons, their own weight being only five tons.

The cost of the Canadian roads, viz: about $14,000 per mile, may be taken to fairly represent the probable outlay (including every expense of right of way, management, etc.) for the building and equipping of a road of this gauge through an undulating and well settled country, involving considerable expenses for right of way, say, 15,000 cubic yards of grading per mile; frequent road crossings, fencing throughout, and a fair proportion of bridges, depots, side tracks, and an ample equipment for a considerable degree of traffic.

On the other hand, in the great prairie country of the West, where [illegible] ing and bridging are at the [illegible] pound rails would be [illegible] is not necessary, and where the [illegible] depots, side tracks and [illegible] road of three feet six inches gauge [illegible] completed and equipped ready for [illegible] expenditure not exceeding [illegible] per mile, and on such a road as [illegible] grades and curves would be easy, trains carrying a net load of one hundred tons of freight could be operated with facility, at a speed of from twenty to twenty-five miles per hour

A Political Sensation for a Day.

The statements that come from Washington in regard to political matters in the dispatches to-day, may be expected to challenge the attention of readers, and very probably they will receive more attention and more comment than their importance will justify. It is clear that the news gatherers, in the absence of other matters of a sensational character, are trying to create a day's sensation in regard to President Grant, Senator Sumner, the next Presidential election and the prospects of the rival political parties. That the justly merited rebuff which the arrogance and malignity of Sumner has received would excite some remark, was to be expected. But that it is producing a tempest which seriously threatens the Administration and promises to defeat Grant's renomination and wreck the Republican party is a story to be laughed at by all who know anything of politics. It is well enough as a sensation for a day, but those who have had political experience and know how matters of this sort always result, will not become excited by so slight a flurry. The story reads exactly like one of the sensational prolusions of the telegraphic correspondent of the New York Herald, who always makes it a point to do the very best that can be done in his peculiar line.

No doubt the action taken in regard to Sumner has created a ripple on the surface of affairs at Washington. Nine-tenths of the Republican party will, however, rejoice that Sumner met the treatment he has received and received what he deserved. He never had any considerable following in the Republican party for the last few months has had so much power before. Haughty, cynical, dictatorial and overbearing, he has tried to constitute himself the supreme authority in the party, the Administration and in the Republican party. He has been the author of more extreme and unpopular suggestions and measures than any man in the nation, and has driven from the Republican party more men than all the other extremists put together. To get rid of such a man in the background will be a positive advantage to the party, and may be of equal advantage to the country. To depend upon Grant will lose nothing for insisting on having Sumner deposed. Sumner himself provoked the issue. He quarrelled with and assailed President Grant just as he quarrelled with and assailed President Lincoln. The truth is, Grant has not made a move a step since he became President in a direction toward Sumner. Sumner is now a Republican Achilles of the Republican party. He can sulk in his tent, and the party will be saved without his leadership. The whole of the political forecastings in the dispatches which tell of Sumner's wrath may be interred in the statement that he is talked of as a Republican candidate for President against Grant. There is ten fold more probability that he will be the Democratic candidate.

As to the renomination of Grant, we deem it certain that the masses of the Republican party will take him up the moment their standard bearer in the next campaign just as they did in the case of Lincoln in 1864, when the Republican party was rebuked again, as it had been but three months previous, whatever that the opposition party may call to the extent of the position of Lincoln in 1864, when the Republican party, the original abolitionists and all the dissatisfied politicians combined and nominated Fremont for President.

Drawing State Warrants.

Much has been said in the Democratic press in condemnation of the action of the late Secretary of State in drawing warrants for the current expenses of the State when there were no appropriations to meet them. The subject has been a very fruitful one for denunciation as unconstitutionality has been dwelt upon with special indignation, and even not most of the Democratic press is laboring decidedly on the subject.

All this may be very just, or it may not be; but we pray it should become known that the present Secretary of State has been drawing warrants in this same way? It is reported that he has been doing so, in favor of an individual, who, of course, is a very good Democrat. How is this? Can the Herald answer? Or put the question with more directness, has or has not Secretary Chadwick drawn warrants in favor of Adjutant General Dennison in the absence of an appropriation to pay on behalf?

Senator Sumner has been for some time supporting the Democratic elements at Washington and New York, and it is believed that he intends to act with the Republican party no more. His removal from the leading post he has occupied on Senate Committees may hasten his departure to the Democratic ranks. He is much cultivated by Chairman Casserly and other Democratic Senators. It is not impossible that he may develop into a Democratic candidate for President in 1872. Let not this startle our Democratic friends. Let them remember Chase, who, it is well known, came near being nominated as New York in 1868. It may be urged by the Democratic managers that Sumner will get the vote of every colored man in the United States, and of course the white Democracy could be whipped in, as they have so often been heretofore, to vote for anybody. Sumner, therefore, may be considered the best card. The Democratic nomination may be awaiting him. Who knows? Democracy is "peculiar."

The census reveals some very interesting and important facts on the subject of education, or rather of the lack of it. In 1860 there were 346,893 illiterate foreign born adults to 871,418 native born. At the South the same census showed that there were in South Carolina 15,000 adult native whites who could not read; in Georgia, 43,000, Alabama, 37,000; Mississippi, 15,000; North Carolina, 68,000; Virginia, 72,000; Tennessee, 67,000, Kentucky, 63,000; Missouri, 50,000. In Indiana—a State of which the Democrats have always great hopes—there were 54,000 illiterates, to 41,000 in Ohio, 38,000 in Illinois, and 36,000 in Pennsylvania. Indiana had the unfortunate distinction of being the most illiterate of the Northern States, and what makes the matter worse, her foreign born population is not in so large a proportion as that of some of her neighbors. In the whole Union, the Commissioner of Education shows that there are 1,700,000 illiterate white youths and adults, and another half million of children under ten growing up in ignorance.

Gen. Rosecrans has written to the Washington Chronicle an article in favor of longitudinal railways. Most of the great lines now run east and west. He argues for north and south railways also, and insists that they are essential to the unity of the nation. He asserts that the construction of the Cincinnati Southern Railway in 1856 would have prevented or greatly shortened the war of the rebellion.

We fear that the effect of the Herald's preachments in behalf of honesty, and its lofty claims to be heard as the guardian of the interests of the people, will be damaged a trifle by recent developments. For instance, when it refuses to oppose a scheme that it calls "totally wrong and rotten in principle," through a fear, as expressed by one of its proprietors, lest such opposition would defeat certain of its own schemes of plunder, there would seem to be some reason to apprehend a public judgment rather adverse to its pretensions of honesty.

Count de Chambord, the Bourbon claimant of the French throne, has issued a pamphlet in which he presses his claims. He says that a durable Republic is impossible, and would simply prepare the way for the restoration of the Empire. "The antecedents of the republic," says he, "permit of nothing else. It is condemned to serve as the pedestal to the Empire." This is good history.

During the two years of President Grant's Administration that have now elapsed the national debt has been reduced by the sum of of $204,754,512. This splendid result has been accomplished during a period when the taxes have been steadily reduced. It shows greater economy in expenditure and increased efficiency in collecting the revenue. That is the lesson of it.

Judge Boise on State Warrants

PORTLAND, March 13, 1871.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The letter of your Lafayette correspondent, "Legis," which appeared yesterday, contained suggestions which may be legitimately urged in connection with this subject. The argumentum ad hominem is admirable, and the point urged in regard to the action of Judge Boise is very well taken. I think, however, that the spirit evinced in the closing expressions of the letter of "Legis" is to be deprecated. This matter is one of deep interest, and involves some of the most interesting points of law that could be raised. Though the Judge did go to the Secretary of State and get the warrants for his salary, sell them to a broker and afterwards deliver a judicial opinion to the effect that the warrants were void, there need not be attributed any wrong motives to him. Hone I regretted to see the the sentence in the letter of "Legis" in which the word "swindle" was used.

But I propose in this letter, with your permission, to make a remark or two on another and the main feature of Judge Boise's opinion. He rests that opinion principally on the statute which provides that the Secretary "shall examine and determine the claims of all persons against the State, in cases where provision for the payment of the same shall have been made by law, and to endorse upon the amount due and allowed thereon," etc.; laying particular stress upon the words above italicised.

Now the question is, in what cases are "provisions" made for the payment of claims? All the regular and ordinary expenses of the State are provided for by law. The salaries are fixed and "provision is made" for paying them in the laws by which they are created. So of the other laws which prescribe the manner of carrying on the State Government. Take the Penitentiary as an illustration. The Code provides for the appointment of officers over that institution, prescribes their duties and fixes the rates of their compensation—that is, it "makes provision" for their payment. The Superintendent is required by law to purchase supplies; the Secretary is required to audit his accounts and issue warrants for the same. So that here also "provision is made by law" for payment. This might be pursued further, but the above will suffice for the illustration.

Now Judge Boise, it seems plain, has erred in this, viz: He has mistaken the expression, "In cases where provisions have been made by law for payment," for appropriations by the Legislature setting apart a fund for expenses for which provisions have already been made by law;—thus, in my judgment, confounding two widely different things.

To state the case somewhat differently, provision is made by law for the payment of salaries and other expenses when the laws creating the offices, fixing the salaries and providing for the incurrence of expenses are enacted. Judge Boise has, in my judgment, erred in confounding this matter with that of appropriations, when the two are entirely distinct.

A Mail Robbery Brought to Light.

THE CRIME COMMITTED LAST SEPTEMBER—AN ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY.

From the La Grande (Union county) Democrat, March 8.

Strange things come to light at times when they are least expected, and the discovery of crimes committed is only the result of accident. An illustration of this idea has occurred in our neighborhood this week, and its discovery has led to the more startling inquiry as to who is the criminal. From the County Assessor, Mr. A. C. Craig, who arrives from Union just as we go to press, we learn that certain facts have been brought to light which prove conclusively that the United States mail was robbed between this place and Union some time between the present time and the 16th of last September. The facts are as follows: Yesterday a gentleman by the name of Martin Blize discovered a leather mail sack under the Catherine creek bridge, in the water, when crossing that stream, and on drawing it out he discovered that the strap had been cut, and the bag containing, besides the mail matter, a large stone weighing 50 pounds. Mr. Blize immediately informed the Postmaster at Union of the discovery, who had the sack brought to that office. On examination it was found that the sack contained several bundles of papers, among them a Walla Walla Statesman of September 10th, and a great number of letters, a part of them opened and so blurred by the action of the water as to be unintelligible. Everything indicates that whoever the robber was he had taken his time about it, and secured all that was valuable.

The date of the Statesman would indicate that the robbery was committed about the middle of last September. We suppress other particulars for good reasons.

PERSONAL NOTES.

It is stated that the Secretary of the Treasury has appointed the prominent banker and Chairman of the National Democratic Committee,—August Belmont,—to negotiate a portion of the new five per cent. loan in Europe. Oregon Democrats will now renew their howl about their party being in the hands of a "tool of the bondholders."

For the information of many who have an interest in the matter, we will state that Gen. McKenny is Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Washington Territory, having been confirmed by the Senate for that office. Mr. Hoffman did not get it. He was nominated and confirmed, but was displaced through the influence of the Secretary of War.

The Eugene Journal learns that Gen. E. L. Applegate has received a proposition from Spencer Butte Lodge, I. O. O. F., asking him to devote himself to the lecturing business exclusively, provided a certain number of other Lodges of the Order will enter into the arrangement also. The proposition is that Mr. Applegate deliver twelve lectures in each of the Lodges on a certain route of travel during the year, on literary and historical subjects, half the proceeds to go to the Lodges and half to the lecturer.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Chicago Dispatches.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Cyrille Dion left here today for San Francisco, where he will play Deery and perhaps Rudolphe. W. Coon and Frank Parker played a French carom game, 500 points up, for $250 a side, last evening, Coon winning by a score of 500 to 320. Nearly one thousand persons witnessed the game and betting was very lively. It was generally even, though Parker was the favorite.

Homicide in Lockport, N. Y.

LOCKPORT, March 12.—Wm. Bullock of the firm of Bullock Bros., was shot dead last evening at the corner of Main and Prince streets, in this city, by Arthur Pierce. Five shots were fired at Bullock, two of which took effect. Breaking of promises and the betrayal of Pierce's sister is said to be the cause of the shooting. Pierce belonged in this city, but latterly has resided in Chicago. Heretofore he has borne an excellent character. He is now in jail.

Death at Alexandria, Va.

ALEXANDRIA, March 11.—George Swayne, a soldier of the war of 1812 and father of Thomas W. Swayne of the Philadelphia Sunday Republican, died yesterday, aged 80.

Collections in Aid of France.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The collections announced to take place in the churches to day, to aid the French, have in many instances been postponed on account of the bad weather. Where taken up they were quite small, the largest being only $1,000.

The British ship Chancellor cleared from Mobile on Friday for Liverpool, with 7,672 bales of cotton, weighing 2,844,490 pounds, the largest cargo ever cleared since the war.

General McDowell has ordered a general inspection of all Quartermasters' stores, camp and garrison equipages and stores in the Department of the East, with a view to condemnation.

OREGON.

The Eugene City Mill Company have shipped down the river since last December 1,500 bbls. flour. It is claimed that they now manufacture a brand which will compare favorably with any manufactured in the State.

A Eugene paper says that a five stamp mill will at once be taken into the Bohemia mines, and vigorous efforts will be made the coming summer to open up this region and settle the question as to whether the ledges will pay or not.

The Eugene Journal reports that during the social part of the programme after Applegate's lecture on Woman's Rights at that place a few evenings ago had closed, a gentleman asked a lady how long this woman's rights business would last. She replied, "as long as the woman lasts."

School statistics for Lane county: Total amount of money for school purposes, $8,224 84; number of districts reported, 47; amount of money for each scholar, $1 19; number of persons over 4 and under 20 years of age, 2,705; males, 1,392; females, 1,294; number of legal voters, 1,624.

Changes have been made in the time of holding Circuit Court in the following counties: In Coos county, from the first to the third Monday in October. Lane, from the fourth Monday in October to the third Monday in November. Douglas, from the second Monday in October to the first Monday in November. Benton, from the first to the fourth Monday in November.

POLITICAL NOTES.

A joint resolution has been introduced in the New Jersey Legislature in favor of the annexation of Staten Island to that State. The mover declared that the people of the island were largely in favor of it.

The Marion (Ind.) Chronicle thinks that Thos. A. Hendricks would make a strong Democratic candidate for the Presidency, but that it is hardly possible for him to secure the nomination, owing to the supreme power of the corrupt New York politicians in the party.

They have been attempting to legislate upon the Social Evil question in Nevada. The subject was made the special order for a certain evening, "at which same," says a Sage Brush sage, "the Assembly Chamber is expected to be clear of ladies." A delicate invitation for the strong-minded.

It is in contemplation to organize a Woman's National Committee at Washington, with the leading male advocates of female suffrage included among its members. This course has been suggested by the reflection that inasmuch as there are so many distinguished men in the country who have proclaimed their allegiance to the cause, it would be unfair to exclude them longer from official participation in the future struggles of the sisterhood. It is not likely that General Butler will be called to serve as Chairman.

A few days ago the National Executive Committee of the Union League of America, held a meeting in Philadelphia, at which a series of resolutions were presented favoring universal amnesty as soon as the same can be effected; the efforts being made throughout the Union to elevate the workingmen by means of labor unions; favoring judicious reform that our necessaries of life may be imported free of tax, and calling on the Republican party to stand by the administration of President Grant. The resolutions were warmly discussed and referred to a committee consisting of Gov. Geary, Gov. William A. Newell and Thos. G. Baller, with instructions to embody the same in an address to the people of the United State. The Secretary was directed to take measures to organize State Councils in Kentucky and other States. The Committee adjourned to meet in Washington in April.

CURRENT NOTES.

During the last Congress, up to February 16, 3,042 bills and 509 resolutions were introduced in the House, and 1,340 bills and 312 resolutions in the Senate. Not more than one-tenth of them passed.

Buffalo meat is as plenty in New York at this season as common beef, and sells for less. Any one inclined to get up an extempore prairie dinner can go to Washington Market, buy his prairie chickens, his buffalo and antelope steaks. So says the New York Herald.

During the years 1867-68-69-70, the value of articles of domestic produce or manufacture exported from British Columbia, amounted to $238,577, $640,912, $651,568 and $448,027 respectively. The principal items which go to make up these sums are coal, furs, and lumber.

There are said to be very few deaf and dumb colored persons. In Virginia, so far as is known, there is but one negro thus afflicted. In the Illinois Asylum there are two deaf mute colored young girls, who found their way thither during the war, nobody knows whence or how.

A Washington school boy has a grievance, and writes about it to the Star, thus: "When a boy goes to School in the morning and Forgets to Sharpen his Pencil Why then of corse he has to do It in School An it he dos his Teacher Takes His nife away from him. Then he goes home An tels his Father an he makes a Fuss. But he never gets his Knife."

Ordinance No. 960.

AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING A PLAN FOR THE bridge on South First street, and limiting the cost thereof.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That in constructing the bridge on South First street between Sheridan street and Williams street, provided for by Ordinance No. 931, entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving that part of South First street lying between the south side of Lincoln street and the north side of Woods street," the Committee on Streets and Public Property shall follow and have said bridge constructed substantially in accordance with the plan on file in the office of the Auditor and Clerk marked and designated as Plan "A," but such bridge shall be extended further upon both banks of the gulch, a distance not exceeding fifteen feet at each end.

Sec. 2. No contract shall be made for the construction of said bridge at a cost greater than thirty-five hundred dollars unless the excess over that amount shall first be secured by private contributions

Passed the Common Council March 1, 1871:

W. S CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved March 4, 1871.
mr14d6d H. GOLDSMITH, Mayor.

Ordinance No. 971.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONstruction of a sewer at the crossing of Lincoln and Front streets.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That a sewer be constructed at the crossing of Lincoln and Front street of sufficient length and capacity to carry off the surplus water. The length and size of said sewer shall be determined by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 2. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized upon the completion of plans and specifications for said sewer, to advertise for and receive proposals and contract with the lowest responsible bidder for the construction of said sewer.

Section 3. The proposed improvement shall be completed on or before the first day of April, A. D. 1871, and the work shall be done to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Passed the Common Council March 8, 1871.

W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved March 9, 1871.
mr14d6d H. GOLDSMITH, Mayor.

Ordinance No. 961.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE IMprovement of E street, from North First to North Eleventh street.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of E street from North First to North Eleventh street, shall consist of the planting of Ornamental Shade Trees, to be placed at such distance from the line of the curb as is provided for in Ordinance No. 310 and at a distance not greater than twenty-five feet apart opposite the line of the blocks, and said improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property, on or before the 1st day of April, A. D. 1871.

Section 2. The Shade Trees hereinbefore mentioned shall consist of one or more of the following named varieties, to-wit: Maple, Elm, Ash, Locust, Fir or Cedar.

Section 3. The contractor or contractors shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident occasioned by carelessness or neglect.

Section 4. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals, receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this ordinance.

Sect on 5. The bids provided for in this ordinance shall contain separate bids for each variety of the trees before mentioned, and the Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to select such variety of trees as they may deem best for each block on said street

Passed the Common Council March 1, 1871.

W. S CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk

Approved March 4, 1871.

H. GOLDSMITH, Mayor

TWO LECTURES

on

Geology of the Great Basin of the Interior of Oregon.

BY

REV. THOMAS CONDON,

AT

PHILHARMONIC HALL,

TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY EVENGS, March 14th and 15th,

At 7 30 o'clock.

Tickets, $1 00; single admission, 50 cents

AT THE REQUEST OF SEVERAL GENTLEMEN prominently connected with the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, together with many citizens of Portland, the Rev. Thomas Condon has consented to give TWO LECTURES as above indicated.

Mr. Condon has devoted much of his time and talent in reading up the buried history of Eastern Oregon. So far as the interesting science of Geology (of which he is an enthusiastic student) could aid him, he has done more for Oregon, Geologically, than all others, and to show appreciation for past services as well as to aid him in prosecuting further search, the net proceeds of these Lectures will be for Mr. O.'s sole benefit. Therefore show your appreciation of honest worth and fill the house to overflowing.

Tickets can be had at the bookstores of S. J. McCormick and Hart's & Holman, and at the office of Oregon Steam Navigation Co.

UNDER WATER.—The railroad tunnel under the Thames on the bottom of the river, between Gravesend and Tilbury, has been successfully passed as usual. The water is now deep enough to allow the locomotive of the Metropolitan Railway to pass through, and will proceed immediately to the completion of the section of track.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Rev. Thomas Condon will lecture this evening at Philharmonic Hall, on the geology of the Great Basin of the Interior of Oregon, a subject which has furnish useful instruction and entertainment, this evening, to those who have heard the lectures for Mr. Condon himself. The lecture will be worthy gentleman's reputation as a student of geology, and the house will be crowded.

THE RIVER.—Contrary to the expectations of many, the river rose but little during the night, and yesterday it fell two inches. The steamer Wilson G. Hunt was discharging freight at the lower dock yesterday afternoon.

The County Court which has been in session for several days will meet this morning.

The ladies of the Congregation Beth Israel are respectfully invited to attend a meeting at the Synagogue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

With the last day of the year there has been a revival of the inquiry for real estate in the city.

The frame of the new skating rink is being raised and will soon be ready for the roof.

The hotels of the city are now full to overflowing, and recent arrivals have found it difficult to get suitable accommodations.

CITY.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD—CORONER'S INQUEST.—Mrs. Anne Fraser, residing on Fourth street, in the upper part of this city, was found dead yesterday morning. The circumstance naturally caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood which was greatly increased by whispers of rumors that her husband had poisoned her. Mr. J. J. Dryer, the Coroner, was informed of the facts and he proceeded to hold an inquest. The body was examined by Doctors Ryan and Baker, and their statement was given to the jury. As this statement is made part of the verdict we give the two together:

We, Wm. C. Ryan and Wm. D. Baker, being practicing physicians, do hereby certify, that having examined carefully the body of Anne Fraser, we found all the internal organs in a normal condition, with the exception of the uterus. We found a schirrus cancer which had affected the entire neck with a considerable portion of the body of the uterus.

WM. D. BAKER,
JAMES C. RYAN."

We, the jury, find the above the cause of death.

E. CORBETT,
W. H. HARRIS,
CHAS. GOODNOUGH,
EDWARD ATKINSON,
P. LEVIN,
LEANDER QUIVEY.

NEW MAP OF PORTLAND AND VICINITY.—Messrs. Russell & Ferry have laid upon our table a new map of Portland and vicinity which eclipses all the efforts of private enterprise in that direction. The map was got up by Mr. H. J. Stevens, City Surveyor, and is about four feet square on a scale of 400 feet to the inch. It was lithographed by A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, in large enough to include all the additions to Portland and East Portland, together with the Portland Homestead tract and plat, and the Riverside Homestead tract. Colored lines designate the boundaries of the old claims on which the city proper was built—Coffin's, Chapman's, Lownsdale's, Stark's, etc. Caruthers', Couch's, Carter's and King's additions are shown with all their streets. In Portland, all the churches and public buildings are designated. East Portland, with all its surroundings, is fully mapped—its additions, railroad line, depots, machine shops, ferry landings, Insane Asylum, cemetery grounds, Riverside Homestead tract and plat, etc. Diagrams are given showing how the old are numbered in the blocks of each tract and addition. As a map of reference, this is probably the best that has been published.

LATE SLIDE—RAILROAD BLOCKED.—On Sunday Supt. J. C. Ainsworth received the following telegram from Mr. Brazee at the Cascades:

"Road is blocked with slides so that it will not be open at least three days to get over under most favorable circumstances. Wagon road impassable. All three roads blocked."

Captain Ainsworth kindly sent us the telegram Sunday evening, but the person to whom it was addressed thrust it under the iron shutters of the office doors, where, of course, it was not found till the opening of that office yesterday morning. We learned yesterday that the company had a considerable force of hands at work removing the obstructions, and it is thought the cars will be able to pass on Wednesday. The mail and express were taken as usual yesterday morning, but no freight nor baggage beyond such as the passengers could carry across the portage.

SHEEP EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.—Within the last few days quite a number of men from the valley counties have gone up the Columbia in search of grazing and farming lands in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory. They are mostly men who want to go into the stock-raising business, and who want wider range than can now be found in the Wallamet valley. Quite a number of large droves of cattle have already gone up the Columbia, and we hear of others in Polk, Yamhill and Linn counties who are preparing to go.

CROP PROSPECTS IN POLK COUNTY.—The Dallas Republican of Saturday says: "The weather for the past week has been so rainy that but little has been done in business or any line. There has been considerable plowing done the past winter, and farmers are now anxiously looking for a change of weather more favorable for sowing. There will be more seeding than usual done this spring, if the rains do not come too late."

PORTLAND BOARD OF TRADE.—Another attempt will be made to-night to get this association together. A meeting is called at the Police court-room at half past seven o'clock. There has not been a meeting together since last October. The call ought to assemble this evening, and if they are satisfied that they have not sufficient public spirit to maintain the organization, they should adjourn it, and let the corpse be buried out of sight.

THE BEATTY TROUPE.—We see by the Victoria Colonist that the Victorians at the first of this month were looking for Mr. L. F. Beatty to arrive in a few days with a full dramatic corps. It was stated that he had engaged the Theater Royal and a telegram had been received announcing his early arrival. Mr. Beatty played at Victoria several years ago when he was quite a favorite. The troupe is, however, still at Salem, we believe.

UNDER WATER.—We learn that the water was over the railroad track, yesterday, for some distance on the bottom land between the Clackamas bridge and Oregon City. The trains, however, passed as usual, the water being still, though deep enough to nearly put out the fires of the locomotives of the morning train. The company will probably be able to run immediately to raise this submerged section of track.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Mr. Condon's lecture on the geology of the interior basin of Oregon, will furnish musical instruction as well as rational entertainment this evening. The proceeds will be for Mr. Condon himself, and as he is a most worthy gentleman, as well as an enthusiastic student of geology, we shall hope to see the house crowded.

THE RIVER.—Contrary to all expectations the river rose but little during Sunday night, and on Monday it fell two or three inches. At daylight Monday morning there was but little flood wood running, and only now and then a big tree went by during the day. The rain having let up there is no further apprehension of a flood.

CHANGE OF FIRM.—The old firm of Russell & Ferry, Real Estate Brokers, etc., has become the firm of Russell, Ferry & Woodward, by the admittance into it of the latter gentleman. The new firm will carry on business on a larger scale than ever. They advertise a great number of city and tracts of land for sale.

THE OLD COURSE OF TRADE.—The Mountaineer states that some of the Idaho merchants intend to purchase their goods at Portland this spring and ship by the old route up the Columbia and overland. This argues that freight charges from this city are less, comparatively, than for the last two or three years.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—A DOLLAR STORE.—We understand that the Ackermans, of San Francisco, are about to open a branch of their Dollar Store in this city. As this will be the only store of the kind in the city, it will no doubt draw large crowds.

CITY TAXES.—Taxes on the city roll are due and payable to the Treasurer. Mr. Backenstos now occupies room No. 5 in Corbett's building, First street, where he or his deputy, Col. Drake, may be found at all hours of the day.

PROPOSALS WANTED.—Bids will be received at the Auditor's office till noon, March 17th, for the building of fences and planting of shade trees around the park blocks between A and G streets.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Oriflamme was discharging freight on the lower dock yesterday afternoon.

The County Court which has been adjourned for several days will meet this morning.

The ladies of the Congregation Beth Israel are respectfully invited to attend a meeting in the Synagogue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Within the last day or two there has been quite a revival of the inquiry for real estate in this city.

The frame of the new skating rink has been raised and will soon be ready for the roof.

The hotels of the city are all full to overflowing, and recent arrivals have found it difficult to get suitable accommodations.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

MEETING OF TEACHERS—REPORT OF THE OFFICERS OF THE MEETING.

Pursuant to a call made by the Superintendent of Schools, for Multnomah county, a number of teachers met at the Central School House on Saturday, March 11th, for the purpose of organizing a County Teachers' Institute. Dr. Atkinson was chosen Chairman and R. K. Warren, Secretary.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed to draft a Constitution and By-laws—the committee consisting of J. W. Pratt, J. W. Johnson and R. K. Warren.

Dr. Atkinson suggested the subject of English Grammar as a topic for discussion at the next meeting, and delivered the subject as follows:

Mr. Pratt—The number of grammars published and the claims of each. Mr. Warren—To how great an extent should oral and written grammar be combined. Mr. Kittridge—Purely oral grammar. Mr. Pershin—The relation of the English to the Classics. Mrs. Burt—Its practical effect on the style of language among girls. Mr. Johnson—The extent and use of the English language. Mr. Dugger—The age to commence the study of grammar.

On motion, the Chairman was was requested to prepare a circular of invitation to be sent to all teachers in the county, setting forth the necessity of a general and hearty co-operation, that the Institute may be a success.

A motion also prevailed requesting the city papers to publish the proceedings of the meeting.

Adjourned to meet on Saturday, March 25th, at 10 A. M.

The meeting was a pleasant one, and it was evident from the tone of the discussion, that those present were in earnest and meant business.

REV. G. H. ATKINSON, D. D.,
President.

THE COURTS.

Monday, March 13, 1871.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—United States vs G. B. Howard; indictment for selling liquor without license; demurrer to indictment overruled.

United States vs G. B. Howard; indictment as tobacco dealer and for keeping billiard table; demurrer to first count sustained, and as to second count, overruled.

John G. Baker and W. H. Twilight, petit jurors, were excused for the term.

In the matter of J. M. Parshbaker—in bankruptcy—petition dismissed on motion of petitioning creditors.

Christian Hansen vs Frank Fowle and A. F. Turner; order that Commissioner take testimony in the cause, and report.

The Court adjourned till to-morrow.

FOURTH CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—O. P. Mason and T. J. Carter vs City of Portland; arguments completed and case submitted to the court.

In the matter of the application for partition of the Raleigh estate, the referees, Messrs. Charles Holman, C. W. Russell and Robert Henderson, reported assignment of dower and partition, which was approved and confirmed, and decree was ordered corresponding with the report.

Shively vs Sheriff of Clatsop county—at chambers; application to restrain the defendant from the collection of taxes assessed against the plaintiff; preliminary injunction granted. In this case the County Commissioners had raised the assessment of the plaintiff from $5,500 to $10,000, and the injunction asked is to restrain the Sheriff from the collection of taxes levied upon the increased assessment.

The court adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, JUDGE.—This court will meet for transaction of private business, at 9 o'clock, 15th inst.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The excellent drama of "Don Cesar de Bazan" was produced last evening upon the reappearance of the Pixley Sisters. Mr. Bates in the character of the witty, nonchalant, devil-may-care adventurer, yet honorable nobleman, Don Cesar, made a very happy personation. He played the character into the unreserved sympathy of the audience and extorted applause or laughter at almost every speech. Mr. Vincon was more than usually effective in some passages as the villain-robber Don Jose. Miss Annie Pixley, in Maritana, was quite successful in some of the first scenes, but was too impassioned in the later ones. She met the real Don Cesar, her husband, with little more apparent emotion than would be natural in meeting with a mere friend, about whom there is neither mystery nor associations of tragedy. Yet with so serious a fault as this, the audience was disposed to be rather pleased with her. Miss Minnie had but little to do except to dress and act the Countess de Rotunda, but that little she did with decided character and effect of the most laughable nature. Mr. Cook made a good deal of amusement as the Marquis de Rotunda. Miss Ingles dressed and looked the king very well, but was a little faulty in her lines toward the last. Upon the whole the play, which is really an excellent one, was performed in a manner quite satisfactory, and will bear repetition. It will be offered again to-night. The vocal performances at the close last evening by the Pixleys were encored roundly, Miss Annie being called out twice and Miss Minnie once.

A DIALOGUE IN WALL STREET.—It is a vulgar error to suppose that the habitues of Wall street converse about nothing but stocks and gold. Sometimes they talk about their health; and they all seem to have one trouble—biliousness. The wear and tear of speculation invariably tells upon the liver.

"How do you think I'm looking?" said a well known "Bull" to a friend in the Long Room, a few days after the late smash-up in gold; "Do I look panic-struck?"

"No; by Jove!" was the reply; "you look in trim to fight for a man's life. Never saw you looking better."

"Let me tell you a secret, my boy," returned the great operator; "I drink no wine, no brandy, no bar-room stimulant of any kind; but I rest keep my stamina up with an occasional dose of PLANTATION BITTERS; and if you'll do me the favor to try it for that bile on the stomach you're always complaining of, I'll furnish the margin for your next spec. if it doesn't cure you."

The gentleman referred to (the initial of whose Christian name is not easy far from the end of the alphabet) has unbounded confidence in the restorative; and his bright eye, firm nerves and wonderful powers of endurance, prove that it is well-founded.

Exuberant Health

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precaution necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e. it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseam, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the present century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is so widely known or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sunday excepted) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over eight millions a year.

The Noble Red Men.

HOW THE CHEROKEES DISPOSE OF UNPOPULAR CHIEFS.

The reported assassination of Lewis Downing chief of the Cherokee nation, now happily and we hope truly cotradicted, reminds the St. Louis Republican of previous similar blots upon the reputation of the Cherokees, which it thus relates: The memorable assassination of John Ridge, a recognized chief of the Cherokees, and the leader of the "Ridge party," together with the simultaneous murder of Ridge's father, and Elias Boudinot, which occurred over thirty years ago, may be fresh in the recollection of some; to others who are not familiar with the bloody tragedy, the following brief statement, obtained from Captain N. H. Clark of this city, who was an eye-witness of Ridge's assassination, may prove of interest. It may be proper to state that Captain Clark, then of the regular army, was stationed among the Cherokees from 1834 to 1841, and a portion of that time acted as Government agent. On the 22d of June, 1839, Captain Clark with Dr. Davis, army surgeon, and an officer of the dragoons was spending the evening with Ridge, at his residence on Honey Creek, three miles from the southwest corner of Missouri. The party were sitting in a double cabin, with the doors thrown open, the weather being warm and balmy. About [illegible] o'clock Captain Clark states that he [illegible] towards the cabin used has a dining room, and in the dim shadow caused by the [illegible] he saw a blanketed Indian skulking in a stealthy manner. The chief, when [illegible] of the circumstance, treated the [illegible] indifference, saying that although [illegible] been threatened, he had got these [illegible] enemies skulking about in this [illegible] and not fear any harm. As the night [illegible] Chief Ridge went to bed, and his [illegible] slept in the dining cabin. Just at dawn Captain Clark was aroused by cries, in [illegible] and Cherokee, of "Soc-ee-yo," "Murder [illegible]," which was repeated several [illegible] but, he saw Ridge surrounded by savages, some of whom [illegible] arms extended, while others were stabbing him with butcher knives. He could see the gleam of the knife blades as they were raised against a bright grey streak in the eastern horizon, and hear the k'chug of the weapons in the body of the victim. After the latter was dispatched, the murderers skulked away in the shadows of the forests, leaving the lifeless body of their victim where it fell him [illegible] terror-stricken [illegible] the negroes in the [illegible] and removed the murdered chief to [illegible], and, on stripping it was [illegible] his body was covered with [illegible] bobs, most of which would have proved [illegible] Singularly enough [illegible] the wife or [illegible] lady from [illegible] Miss Northrup [illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] awakened by the [illegible] through her [illegible] bed must have [illegible] these dreadful [illegible] from her [illegible] same night Scudmout [illegible] Evansville, some forty miles [illegible] kept an apothecary [illegible] an Indian female to [illegible] some medicine, [illegible] when he was [illegible] ordered by Indians, who [illegible] their ambush. Ridge [illegible] was killed the same night at Park Hill, a place [illegible] miles from the spot where Ridge was killed. John Bell was also waylaid but managed to escape. General Arbuckle ordered an investigation, but the assassins were never brought to punishment. It was alleged that the murders were committed by the Ross party. Ridge was the recognized chief of the party which favored emigration, and under the treaty by which the old Cherokee country was ceded to the United States, in lieu of which their present country west of the Mississippi was solemnly granted to them forever. The country granted by Ridge gave mortal affront to the Ross party. Ridge emigrated in 1828 and the Ross party was compelled by circumstances to make the homes of their leaders, for the Western country, as the winter of 1838 to 1839 was a full-blooded Cherokee. A Massachusetts town has six churches, with a population of only 2,000, and a local paper says the rivalry and animosity of some of them is more intense than between any other enterprises in town.

A Georgia colored debating society was lately discussing: Which is best for the laboring man, to work for wages or part of the crop?" An old "uncle" spoke the sense of the meeting when he thought "bofe was de best, if dey could only be brung together somehow."

An impudent fellow who insulted three young girls in Philadelphia, a few evenings ago, was attacked by them, thrown into a snow-bank pounded, scratched, bitten, kicked and kicked, and finally rolled over and over in a pool of slush. Meanwhile he cried lustily for assistance, and a passing physician came to his relief, thinking some one was being murdered, but one of the girls explained matters, while the other two continued the righteous battle, and he refused to interfere.

Investigations of history have at last taken [illegible] the burial of Sir John Moore. A writer in the London Athenæum examines [illegible] the celebrated poem of Wolfe, "Not a drum was heard," and finds scarcely a stanza [illegible] there is not a historical blunder. The first [illegible] "We buried him darkly at [illegible] night," is incorrect, he maintains, in [illegible] the [illegible] line. The funeral took place after [illegible] took on the morning after the [illegible] death. This critic deems it incredible that [illegible] should have been used in digging [illegible] when picks and spades must have been [illegible] accessible; and as for the "struggling moonbeams' misty light," almanacs show that the moon was but one day old when the battle took place, and all other accounts agree [illegible] the darkness of the night which succeeded. We need not follow the criticism through. There is hardly any assertion in the poem which is not assailed mercilessly and compared with the facts of history, as though a poet in singing about his hero was under obligation to confine himself to facts. This writer appends to his criticism another poem on the same subject, which he likes better than Wolfe's. We copy two stanzas of this version.

One duty remained; the sad tribute was ours
To enshrine the dear sacred remains of the brave;
And while night, darkly gloomy, o'ershadowed the hours,
In silence, in sorrow, we dug him a grave.

At morning, amid the loud cannon's hoarse roar,
While revenge, sternly glowing, dried sorrow's and tear,
Unc offined, unshrouded, the hero we bore;
And, wrapped in his mantle, we buried him here.

Ordinance No. 957.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE IMprovement of the Park Blocks in John H. Couch's Addition to the City of Portland.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of the public parks lying between D street and A street shall consist of fencing and planting of ornamental and shade trees, and shall be completed on or before the first day of April next.

Section 2. The proposed fence shall be constructed of cedar posts firmly set, ten feet apart, extending at least two and a half feet below the surface of the ground and four feet above the established grade of the blocks, and shall be connected by two rails two by four inches in dimension; the size of the posts and general finish of the fence shall be such as shall be adopted by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 3. The proposed fence shall be painted in a good and substantial manner, such color as shall be approved by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 4. The shade and ornamental trees before mentioned shall consist of the varieties, and shall be placed at such distances apart as shall be directed by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 5. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder for the faithful performance of the before mentioned work.

Section 6. The improvement herein specified shall be completed under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Passed the Common Council March 1, 1871.
W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved March 4, 1871. B. GOLDSMITH, Mayor.
